T. F. Kelly's Will Probated

In the Fayette Circuit Court yesterday morning Judge Scott admitted to probate the last will and testament of Thomas F. Kelly, formerly of Paris. The will was probated on the testimony of Miss Elsie Shackelford, who testified that she and Dr. Thomas and F. Kinnard had attached their names to the instrument as witnesses.

Mr. Kelly bequeaths all his property to his wife, Mrs. Josephine K. Kelly and named her as executrix of the estate. Mrs. Kelly qualified by executing bond in the sum of $500 without surety in accordance with a provision of the will.

Card from Robert S. Porter

To the Democratic Voters: I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for the office of Police Judge of Paris, subject to the action of the Democratic primary to be held on August 2, 1913. There are one hundred reasons I could give as an excuse for asking your support, but the principal and all absorbing one is that I want the revenue which occupancy of the office brings, and I do not think it worth while to mention the other ninety-nine. After all that is the principal reason which a large majority of office seekers have for seeking office, and I am no exception to the rule.

I have been told by numerous enthusiastic, but perhaps overzealous friends, that they considered me competent to assume the responsibilities of the office. If I am elected through their confidence in me I promise to enforce the laws to the very best of my abilities. Angels could do no more. Being employed six days in the week, it will be impossible for me to see in person each voter, hence this card. Your support will be appreciated and if elected I hope to merit it.

Very Respectfully,
R. S. PORTER.

Blue Grass League Directors Hold Meeting.

Directors of the Blue Grass League held a meeting at the Phoenix Hotel, in Lexington, Wednesday, for the purpose of discussing plans looking to the opening of the season and the conducting of the league affairs during the summer. It was practically assured that the Blue Grass League will exist during the summer, but from the present outlook there is a grave possibility that there will be no more than four clubs.

President Russell stated that there had been numerous obstacles to overcome this season, such as the objection of Garry Herrman to placing clubs in Covington and Newport, and reports from several towns that fans had lost interest in the game, but expressed the opinion at the meeting that the league members would open the season with good teams.

It was decided to push the suit against the National Commission to obtain a temporary injunction, and all the members present expressed a belief that they would certainly win the fight if the matter was brought to the courts.

President Russell stated that he had returned to Secretary Farrell the entrance fee of the league, which the latter had enclosed him in his communication recently. The letter was as follows:

Maysville, Ky., March 15, 1913.
Mr. J. H. Farrell,
Secretary, Auburn, N. Y.

Dear Sir—Your communication enclosing check representing our 1913 protection fee in the National Association received and I return the check herewith. You have evidently been misinformed as to the nature of our contention, which is not a disagreement with any of the base ball laws, but a difference in opinion with Mr. August Herrman, the Chairman of the National Commission, over the interpretation of the five-mile limit clause in the National agreement. We must protest against snap judgment on your part or that of the National Board. We still claim our membership in the National Association, and our efforts are really directed toward preventing harm to same, rather than hurt it.

Very truly,
THOMAS M. RUSSELL,
President Blue Grass League.

All the members expressed themselves as being highly in sympathy with the President's action, and the general feeling of the meeting was that Farrell had acted hastily, and that it was the intention of Herrman and Farrell to force them out of the National Association.

President Russell announced the selection of advisory committee for the league as follows: John Leonard, Maysville; William Shire, Paris; M. C. Kellogg, Richmond; J. H. Stewart, Frankfort, and J. G. Juett, Lexington.

The Spalding National League Ball was adopted as the official base ball for the league, to be used in all games.

Those who attended the meeting were: Hogan Yancey and Thomas Sheets, Lexington; A. B. Coleman and J. H. Stewart, Frankfort; Thomas M. Russell, James Summers and J. R. Leonard, Maysville, and R. C. Stockton, Richmond.

Paris was not represented at the meeting, neither President Bacon nor Secretary William Shire being able to attend on account of pressing business.

Law Abiding County.

The Robertson Circuit Court closed a brief term at Mt. Olivet Wednesday, having convened Monday. The grand jury was impaneled Monday and adjourned Tuesday. The petit jury was convened Tuesday and was adjourned. There was practically nothing for the grand jury to do.

Last Game of Season.

The last basket ball game of the season will be played at the Public school gymnasium this evening at 7:30 o'clock. The girls' team from Versailles will be the attraction and the P. H. S. girls expect to win a glorious victory and hold a record of not losing a game this season. Admission 25 cents.

Dynamite Fails to Raise Body of Boy.

Dynamiting Hinkston creek for four miles from the point where he was last seen failed to bring to the surface the body of Raymond Carr, who was drowned last Friday afternoon in the stream back of his father's farm near Middlesburg.

Searching parties have been engaged in the efforts to find the remains ever since the unfortunate accident, but nothing has resulted from the thorough search.

Wednesday two parties set out in boats, one from Ruddles Mills and the other from the point where the boy was swept away by the swift current, and the entire distance, four miles between the two points, was traversed. Dynamite was used at intervals in the hope of bringing the body to the surface.

Neighbors in the vicinity are lending every effort to the grief stricken parents, who are prostrated over the affair and their grief is increased over the inability of the searchers to locate the body.

Mr. Carr has offered a reward of $100 for the recovery of the body of his son.

"WE KNOW HOW"

Even WE Admit

that there are more important things in the world than having the right clothes. We realize that, as the poet says, "A man's a man for a' that."

But, unfortunately, people WILL judge a fellow by the way he looks, and even more unfortunately, lots of fellows don't look as well-dressed as they might. It isn't because they don't want to, or because they don't try, it's because they don't know how or where to get garments that will bring out the best of them and hide the worst of them.

We don't say that we CAN, because it wouldn't be modest, but we're morally sure that we MIGHT show you a suit that would cause the first friend you met to congratulate you on your improved appearance. COME and SEE.

The "Unsinkable Ship."

The big transatlantic steamer Olympic, sister ship of the ill-fated Titanic, has been undergoing a process of reconstruction and improvement. It is now announced that the faults that were so hideously in evidence at the time of the great ocean tragedy of a year ago have been remedied, that a sufficient number of life boats to carry the entire ship's company have been installed and that numerous other changes in construction and equipment have been made, looking to greater safety.

All this is reassuring. But the reassurance is not strengthened in any way by the company's assertion that the Olympic has been made an "unsinkable ship." The Titanic was also called an "unsinkable ship" and was believed to be such until the greatest of ocean tragedies proved how idle was the boast. The world is quite willing to believe that such a fate befell the Titanic can not visit the reconstructed Olympic. But the perils of the sea are many, and it is not impossible that they include some that today are no more conceivable than the peril which met and overwhelmed the greatness of the Atlantic seemed to be before the event.

Puny man has no more justification now for the boast that he has succeeded in absolutely controlling and taming the elements than he had a year ago. An unsinkable ship is a phase that should not be given too ready employment. Under all the circumstances its use is more likely to arouse than to disarm suspicion.

Fares Worse at Second Trial

The Newly-Weds and their Baby at Paris Grand, Tues., March 25

THEATRICAL.

"THE NEWLYWEDS."

A theatrical attraction classified as a musical comedy is billed to appear at the Paris Grand on Tuesday, March 25. It is entitled "The Newlyweds and Their Baby." This style of entertainment is one of those that the wisest of the amusement world have been consigning to oblivion for years. It is true that a great many of them have passed into the discard. But when one is presented that embraces a pleasant blending of pretty faces, pretty music, rich costumes and scenery, backed up by a strong company of comedians and a play that is full of novel and really funny situations it is quite sure to succeed. The foregoing is just a summary of "The Newlyweds and Their Baby." It has been a success from the start, because it is just what the public needs. And as for big business "The Newlyweds" has set the mark for them all. It is rare indeed that a light house is played to. It is by no means uncommon that every seat in the house is sold 24 hours before the company arrives.

"Excuse Me," which will be at the Paris Grand, Wednesday, March 26, is a clever American farce and a distinct success. It was written by Rupert Hughes, and is a Henry W. Savage offering. It caught on at a jump when it was produced in New York, and it remained on Broadway nine months then went to Boston, where the hit it made kept it going four months. Meanwhile a company was formed for Chicago, where there was a six months' run. Runs like these, which are extraordinary, are the best of all endorsements of "Excuse Me." They indicate unmistakably that it is wonderfully entertaining and thoroughly pleases the great majority of playgoers. It is a farce and claims to be just that. A college education is not necessary to its enjoyment, but would not lessen the pleasure of it, as its comedy is rational and real and tickles the risibility irrespective of condition, sex or age. Passengers board a train in Chicago and travel to Reno. They are amusing persons with whom chance and fate have for the entire trip. Comic vents come uninterruptedly and there is laughter for the onlooker every moment.

A young army officer and the girl he has run off with have the chief romance in the play. Events compel them to start on the trip before they have been married. They are constantly on the lookout for a minister, and meantime pretend to quarrel to account for their behavior to the other passengers, who think they are bride and groom. A husband and wife, each secretly going to Reno for divorce, travel on the same train, so does a cranky woman hater and the woman who made him such by rejecting him years before. She is a missionary now and quite willing to accept him. There are a country parson and his wife who for the first time in thirty years are free from the observation of his flock and eager for the time being to forget his cloth and the decorum it implies. There are other passengers who figure actively in the lively events of the journey, while the train conductor, the Pullman porter and the newsboy heighten the humor of it all. The whole idea of the farce is excellent. The entire action is represented as taking place in the Pullman cars of the Overland Limited express train. Its stage effects are strikingly realistic.

Must Be Persistent.

The art of convincing is never given to the man who is unwilling to persist in an effort to convince.

Baby Show Feature of Fair.

A baby show, in which the entries will be judged by as high standards as are required for blue ribbon winners among the displays of domestic animals, will be held at Louisville next fall as part of the State Fair. Dimples and elfin grins will be scored only as points in the quality of fat and disposition under the head of psychology.

An exposition of eugenics, the high sounding title of the display, but it is in reality a scientific baby show, and Commissioner of Agriculture J. Newman expects it to be one of the most popular attractions at the fair. Prizes aggregating about $250 will be offered by the fair board, and these will be supplemented out of a fund of $30,000, set apart by the Woman's Home Companion to encourage the study of eugenics.

Commissioner Newman has received reports from numerous State fairs, which have held such exhibitions and declared them permanent features for the future. He has not yet worked out the details of the classification of entries and distribution of premiums. Lectures on eugenics will be present to discuss proper methods of rearing babies.

Health Officers Begin Work

With a continuation of the springlike days the health officials of this city will in a few days begin an active campaign looking to the thorough clearing of the city. With seasonable weather this work should progress so rapidly that by the time real warm weather rolls around the town will be free from the objectionable matter that accumulates during the winter months.

Dr. A. H. Keller, the city health officer, always thoroughly alive to the healthful interests of the community, will have under his personal supervision the cleaning of the city and plans to begin his campaign in the next few days.

The prevalence of measles and other contagious diseases in adjoining counties is causing much concern in this city, but every effort is being made to fight an invasion. At present there are no cases of measles reported within the limits of the city although several have developed in the outskirts. These have been given prompt attention and there is little danger of the disease approaching an epidemic.

Selling Lester Bryan Corn Here.

Mr. E. P. Bunton, representing the State Agricultural Department was in Paris yesterday arranging to place on sale the corn for the prize crop of Lester Bryan, of Warren county, who was awarded the prize offered by the State Department and who it will be remembered was asphyxiated in Washington, D. C.

The proceeds from the crop, which is being sold at $1 per ear, will be used to erect a monument to the memory of the boy and to introduce the Lester Bryan corn to the farmers of the State. Wherever the corn has been placed on sale it has met with ready sale.

Mr. Bunton has arranged with the county superintendent of schools, Miss Mabel Robbins, and with the officials of the People's Bank of this city, to have a display of the corn and to take orders. Each ear will be shipped direct to the buyers from the Department at Frankfort by parcel post. While in the city yesterday Mr. Bunton disposed of a considerable amount of the corn.

Small Pox Case in Quarantine.

George Curtis, a farm laborer, is under quarantine in a voting booth on the farm of Mr. Edsell Clark near Little Rock, with a well developed case of small pox. No danger from the case is apprehended as the county health authorities acted promptly and perhaps prevented the spread of the disease.

The man appeared at the home of Dr. P. L. McClure at Little Rock last Saturday who pronounced him infected with the disease. Curtis had been employed by Mr. W. M. Kissick, who lives on the Brennan farm. He complained of having a breaking out over his body and was advised to go to Dr. McClure.

Dr. McClure at once notified the health officials here and Dr. Silas Evans, of the county health board, accompanied by Drs. C. G. Daugherty and J. A. Gilkey and Deputy Sheriff Ollie Marshall went to Little Rock and after seeing the case it was diagnosed as small pox.

The man was placed under guard and is being given treatment. The Kissick home where Curtis lived was fumigated and the members of the family vaccinated. It was not thought necessary to place the family in quarantine.

Caught With the Goods on Him.

Cas McHattan alias Con Green, colored, was arrested Saturday morning about two o'clock by Patrolman G. N. McKenney, just as he was about to enter Judy's Alley, as a suspicious character and investigation revealed a number of chickens under his coat. The suspicious action of the negro prompted the officer to ask him where he had been and what he was doing out so early in the morning. McHattan told him he had been to see a sick friend, but when asked who it was could not call to mind the name of the person.

Patrolman McKinney searched the negro and found under his coat in a sack half a dozen fine hens. When it became apparent to the negro that there was no way to mislead the officer he confessed that he had robbed the hen coop of Louis Lang, residing on the Ferguson farm near this city and who moving a few days ago, had left a number of his chickens on the place intending to return for them.

Mrs. Lang came to Paris Tuesday and identified the chickens as being those missing from her flock. She also identified McHattan as a negro who was seen in the vicinity of her home the day before. McHattan was arraigned in police court Tuesday afternoon. The case was taken to the grand jury.

What People Think of the New Studebaker.

"The Studebaker booth at the Providence Auto Show attracted more attention and drew bigger crowds than any other at the show. This was not only my observation but that of several others, and such an expression came from some of the exhibitors themselves."—Goodwin-Sherman Motor Car Co., Providence, R. I.

"We have the most comprehensive line I have ever seen put out by a single company."—Prominent Eastern dealer.

"Studebaker cars will be the biggest proposition on the road this season. There were 3 makes of cars at the Bloomington show and the biggest crowds were always at the Studebaker space. No need for souvenirs with Studebakers cars on display."—C. U. Williams, Bloomington, Ill.

"Feel like a millionaire in my new Studebaker '35' Sedan. The Studebaker cars are the class this year."—B. J. Shanley, Ottawa, Ill.

"We have the best automobile built at anywhere near the price."—A. D. Davis, Worcester, Mass.

"In the twelve years that I have been in the automobile business I have never seen anything to equal the favorable impression that our new models have created in my territory."—J. L. Oliver, manager Los Angeles branch. Adv. It.

Get It While It's Cheap

Many people live uncomfortably because they cannot afford to do different. Many others are in the same fix because no matter how much they are able to pay, the comforts they desire are not within their reach.

This, however, is not the case with electric light—the greatest of all comforts. The electric wires pass by your very doors and Edison Mazda Lamps provide the most beautiful electric light obtainable at one-third what it cost, even only two or three years ago.

So, if you are not enjoying the benefit of electric light—like your friends and neighbors—whose fault is it?

A half-hour's talk with our genial house-wiring man will prove interesting and profitable.

Dorsey Acquitted.

The case of the Commonwealth against Bev. Dorsey, of Hutchison, this county, under indictment on the charge of receiving stolen property, was tried in Circuit Court Wednesday. The jury in the case returned a verdict of acquittal.

Yesterday the suit of the Templin Lumber Co. against B. T. Marfox came up for trial, resulting in the jury returning a verdict in favor of the defendant. The suit was to recover the sum of $250 alleged to have been due on a consignment of lumber furnished by the plaintiff company. The defense contended the lumber was not up to specification and the refusal to accept it resulted in the suit.

The suit of Mrs. Rose Flanders, of Paris, against Harry King, of Carlisle, was called yesterday and consumed a large portion of the day. The plaintiff prays for damages for the loss of a horse which it is alleged was killed by an automobile driven by King. The ideal carriage horse is the American trotting bred horse, with size, speed, courage, and the true trotting gait, with plenty of knee and hock action. In addition he must have a clean cut head and neck, style and finish, plenty of substance without coarseness.

Recognizing the demand for this class of horses, I selected Taylor Simmons 23489, a young horse which fills all the requirements of the typical carriage horse. If the theory that "like begets like" be true, he will produce horses of this type when mated with good mares. Through his veins flow the blood of the greatest trotting families. He traces twice to George Wilkes and five times to Mambrino Chief II. This is backed by the stout thoroughbred blood of Boston. A few of the fancy priced ones sired by Taylor Simmons: Tendara, winner in the walk-trot class at the Blue Grass Fair in 1907, Louisville Horse Show and in the East, sold by Col. C. L. Railey for $2,500; Alleen Powers, sold to Godfrey Priest, of New York, for $1,000; Little Nath, sold for $500 to Eastern parties. His get are always commanding the price that pay a man to raise good stock. Lien retained on colts until season money is paid.

Plan School for Convicts.

Warden A. J. G. Wells, of the Frankfort reformatory is considering a plan for starting a school for convicts. At the chapel he found there were among all the prisoners present only two college men, less than a score of high school graduates, not 100 that had gone as high as the high school and 99 who had never gone to school at all. He has not as yet developed any of the details of the plan, but when he has worked it out to his own satisfaction he will lay it before the Board of Prison Commissioners.

What State Papers

Are Saying Anent the Senatorial Race

The Louisville Post prints the following by Tom Cromwell, in the Cincinnati Enquirer:

"Governor James Bennett McCreary returned to Frankfort from Washington last Sunday. He told the official family at the State capital what a fine time he had had at the national capital; what enjoyment he experienced in meeting some of his old colleagues and friends of the days when he was a Senator; what great pleasure he had in witnessing the inauguration of another Democratic President, and how gratified he was at having the honor of inviting President Wilson to attend the Perry celebration at Louisville, but he has volunteered no information as to whether he will or will not be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for United States Senator."

"Last week scores of Democrats who attended the presidential inauguration returned to Kentucky feeling certain that Governor McCreary would announce his decision very shortly after his arrival at Frankfort. This expectation was based on what they saw and heard in Washington with reference to the Governor's talks with Congressman Owsley, Stanley, National Committeeman John C. Mayo, Chairman R. H. Vansant, of the State Central and Executive Committee; Messrs. Johnson N. Camden and Allie W. Young, both managers of past campaigns in Kentucky, and others who will have a hand in the shaping of party affairs for the forthcoming campaign. The majority of these Democrats were entertaining the notion that the Governor's answer would be in the affirmative, and they thought they had good grounds in their belief."

"This week, however, finds these Democrats in a somewhat vexatious state of perplexity over the Governor's apparent indecision. They are freely admitting a misconception of the situation and at the same time they are declaring their belief that the Governor does not know where he is at, so to speak."

"It is related this week that certain interests opposed to the candidacy of former Governor J. C. W. Beckham and preferring Governor McCreary to Congressman Stanley made overtures to friends of the Representative of the Second district, Beckham, to succeed Senator James on the House Ways and Means Committee, to urge him out of the race, but they failed in the effort. Gov. McCreary thereupon paid Congressman Stanley a personal visit and talked to him for two hours. At the end of the interview, it is said, Stanley's determination to stay in the race had increased, and he is reported to have told the Governor most positively that he means to run it out regardless of who may enter."

"Stanley, according to politicians who lingered in Washington and returned to Kentucky this week, is boasting strength enough to win over Beckham, even should it become a two man race. He figures that McCreary, if it should be a three man race, would draw more from Beckham than he would draw from Stanley. In short, Stanley cannot see anything other than victory, they say, however much many of them disagree with him and it would seem next to impossible to get a man in such a frame of mind, out of anybody's way."

"Meanwhile there appears to be no alternative in the matter of the Governor's decision than to await the Governor's further pleasure."

The Stanford Interior Journal says: "J. K. Baughman, the well known West End farmer, has just returned from a trip to Barren and Metcalfe counties, where he went to purchase a Percheron horse. He says that he talked to a number of leading Democrats of those two counties and they told him that the sentiment among the Democratic voters there is overwhelmingly in favor of ex-Governor Beckham for U. S. Senator in the August primary. Both counties are in the Third Congressional District."

Work.

The work that a man likes to do is too often done by somebody else.

Go West to Take Up Claims

A large crowd of Clark county people left Saturday night to take up claims for Government lands in Montana, and will establish a small colony near Glendive. Others will take up claims near Wibaux. The party was gotten up by Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Stull, who have been in Montana for about a year and are pleased with conditions there. They had returned to Kentucky to accompany their friends and relatives to Montana.

Nervous Troubles Drive Away Happiness

Tona Vita Will Quickly Drive Away the Nervous Troubles

People who are all run down in health, who are worn out, nervous and half sick, are apt to be thoroughly discouraged. They are half hearted, listless and depressed and feel that this is a terrible world with many pains in it and few pleasures.

This state of mind is recognized by physicians as a common symptom of nervous debility. If you are one of the many Americans who are suffering with nervous breakdown or nerve exhaustion, you can get back your old health and spirit in a few weeks time. Go to your druggist and obtain a bottle of Tona Vita. This remarkable tonic is helping thousands back to health and it will not fail in your case. In fact it never fails. You will be astonished how quickly it will build you up both in mind and body.

Tona Vita is sold by Chas. E. Butler & Co.

WRITTEN BY ONE WHO KNOWS

Male and Female Humorists at Work, and Also in Their Less Harmful Moments of Leisure.

Humorists are people who cut, fit and finish jokes, jests and light verse and do plain and fancy writing which is not serious.

Male humorists do this by lighting a pipe or a cigar, sticking a sheet of paper into a typewriter and wishing they had adopted a mercantile career. Female humorists accomplish the feat by twisting their back hair into a knot, nibbling chocolate creams or chewing some gum, and manipulating the typewriter in the customary manner.

As a general thing, nowadays, humorists are very human. There are more of them than there used to be. The women dress like their sisters, and the men are perfectly conventional in their attire. Occasionally you come across an old-school humorist, or a modern one who clings to the old-school traditions. He imagines that he has to wear a most solemn face, never smiles, and looks pained when you laugh at what he says. This variety goes great on the rural lyceum circuit.

Humorists are always introduced as such. Plumbers, housebreakers, bankers, dry goods men and wholesale grocers are never classified when introduced, but humorists are always specified. Immediately the persons to whom they are introduced wait expectantly for them to say something witty. Immediately, also, they are disappointed, unless they are of the class who shriek with joy when the humorist politely says: "It is a nice day."

Humorists always have to explain why they are humorists instead of following some more laborious occupation. Also they are expected to deliver afterdinner speeches for nothing, because being funny is second nature to them, and they are not supposed to have any remunerative way of spending their odd moments.

The difference between a humorist and a comedian is that a comedian uses the humorist's humor. If the humorist used the comedian's humor he would starve to death. Another difference is that the comedian makes from three hundred to five hundred dollars a week.—Life.

Ways of the Working Class.

The psychology of the working class is different from that of the other classes. The prevailing tone is apathy. There is no discontent or envy of the well-to-do, but neither is there that restless eagerness to better their position, and confidence in their ultimate prosperity, which the American spirit is supposed to instill into a man. Men in the trades seem to have this spirit, but it is noticeably absent from the factory class. Even the immigrants seem quickly to lose that flush of hope and ambition with which they arrive in this country. The factory routine seems to get into their very souls, so that their whole life settles down to a monotonous drudgery without a look forward or backward. They are chiefly concerned in holding their jobs, and escaping the horrors of unemployment—in making both ends meet. Beyond this there is little horizon for day-dreaming and ambition. Life to them is a constant facing of naked realities, and an actual "economy," or management, of resources, not an effort to impress themselves on their neighbors, and to conform to the ways of those about them. This deep-seated divergence in standards and interests from the rest of American life may or may not be important, for the factory class is thus far politically negligible; but it is interesting, and well calculated to suggest many unpleasant things to American minds.—Randolph S. Bourne, in the Atlantic.

Good Nature and Humorous Tongue.

In a village of about five thousand inhabitants in Toga county, New York, a modest fortune has been amassed by a man who at the age of forty-five left the navy without even a trade to fall back upon and no assets except a humorous turn to his tongue.

Having done some cobbling when a young man, he entered a shoe store for a time and later set up a little shop of his own for repairing shoes. That was ten years ago. His good nature and industry won him the trade of the town; a newly acquired habit of thrift prompted him to buy on the installment plan the little shop and house in which he lived.

Today a fine brick building is replacing the wooden one and the cobbler himself may give up his last if he wishes. But that he has no dislike for it is evidenced by his recipe for success, which is: "Just keep pegging away."

Farmer Had Business Instinct.

At the tail end of the summer a farmer near Springfield, Mass., found he had 50,000 ripening melons on his hands and it looked as though they would be a dead loss for lack of time to ship them. But he posted notices throughout the county, advertised in the newspapers and sold 40,000 melons within a week. He had a line of 27 automobiles standing in front of his house at one time on a single afternoon.

Will Dawn Upon Him Some Day.

"Oh, yes; Jack admits me; I've known it for weeks."
"Then what's bothering you?"
"What's bothering me? Why, I've got to wait for him to find it out."

HUSBAND RESCUED DESPAIRING WIFE

After Four Years of Discouraging Conditions, Mrs. Bullock Gave Up in Despair. Husband Came to Rescue.

Caron, Ky.—In an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Bettie Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk anywhere at all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side.

The doctor was called in, and his treatment relieved me for a while, but I was soon confined to my bed again. After that, nothing seemed to do me any good.

I had gotten so weak I could not stand, and I gave up in despair.

At last, my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I commenced taking it. From the very first dose, I could tell it was helping me. I can now walk two miles without its tiring me, and am doing all my work."

If you are all run down from womanly troubles, don't give up in despair. Try Cardui, the woman's tonic. It has helped more than a million women, in its 50 years of continuous success, and should surely help you, too. Your druggist has sold Cardui for years. He knows what it will do. Ask him. He will recommend it. Begin taking Cardui today.

In the Fayette Circuit Court Monday Judge Kerr, owing to illness, was unable to hear the motion for the defendant in the divorce proceedings of Maggie Rogers McClintock vs. J. D. McClintock for a reduction of alimony and a complaint upon the part of the defendant that he has been put to considerable inconvenience to see his little daughter, Miss Rachael McClintock. The matter was continued generally by Judge Kerr.

The amount of alimony which Mr. McClintock has been paying to Mrs. McClintock, under an order of the Court of Appeals is $100 per month, but in the opinion rendered by the higher court, it was stated that amount might be increased or decreased by the trial court upon the submission of satisfactory evidence.

Schedule Causing Worry

The agricultural schedule, it is stated, is giving the Democratic tariff makers trouble, which will be carried to the caucus in April, where Representative Stanley and others promise to renew the fight for free wheat, corn, sheep, hogs, cattle and raw wool. Sentiment seems to have developed in favor of one tariff bill and not separate bills for each schedule.

Making All Happy.

"What I deem an appropriate present is a book, and that I must choose for myself," writes a correspondent of the London Chronicle. "To leave the selection to friends would be a catastrophe. Every year, therefore, on behalf of those generously minded individuals who have kindly thoughts toward me, I buy books for myself, tell them, and get the money refunded. And in the measure of monetary value they remember me, I likewise remember them—in any article of their own choosing. And we are all happy."

Buzzing Sounds Made by Insects.

The different humming or buzzing sound in insects is caused by the vibration of the wings, and the more rapid the vibrations the sharper the sound. Scientists have estimated that the common house fly vibrates its wings about 335 times a second and the honeybee 400 times, though a tired bee moves its wings more slowly and makes a different sound from a fresh one. The butterfly is content to move more slowly and makes no noise.

With all the latest devices installed in my shop to make it absolutely sanitary and clean, including a Patent Towel Sterilizer, Individual Cups, Soap, etc., I believe we have the most modern shop in Paris. We have just installed a new Porcelain Tub and an up-to-date Bathroom. Hot water at all times. Three Barbers, all experts. We would like to have your trade. I take this method of soliciting it. Is there a reason why we should not receive it? Respectfully.

THEATRICAL.

SATAN.

Milton's "Paradise Lost" and Klynd-stock's "Messiah" were the two classics used for the first two parts of the moving picture classic "Satan," which will be exhibited at the Paris Grand on Friday and Saturday, March 21 and 22. The theme of the five reels of interesting pictures is that of the history of Man. Through distant dim aces the pictures lead the audience and it is almost as if one had lived for countless years and watched the coming of kings and the falling of empires. Each scene is of a different era and all of it based upon biblical and historical facts. The first scene shows the waging of the battle between God and Satan and the defeat of the evil spirits, the descent of Satan to earth which he makes his kingdom. The earth is subtle to his influence and ready to follow in crime and wickedness. Adam and Eve are the first to fall before Satan's work, and at his instigation Cain fashions the first weapon and slays his brother. The Messiah comes to earth in the second part and is quietly going about his way performing miracles, preaching the truth of God and working for the redemption of man. Satan is not yet through and having vainly attempted to taint the glorious soul of Jesus he bribes Judas to deliver the kiss of betrayal. Jesus in all his radiance walks forth from the tomb and once again Satan is defeated. The Ambrosic Company expended $200,000 in giving the wonderful drama a fitting presentation to the public. A special machine is carried by the company with expert operator in charge.
